

The Grand Prix Images Vevey presents the prestigious jury of its 2023/24 edition

880 projects from 65 countries have been submitted to the Grand Prix Images Vevey: the winning projects will be selected by an international jury chaired by British photographer Paul Graham.

A pre-jury of 20 international experts drew up a list of 80 final nominees selected from the 880 submissions received from 65 countries: 45 projects have been selected for the Grand Prix Images Vevey, worth CHF 40,000 to produce an original photographic project in one year, while 35 publication projects have been selected for the Images Vevey Book Award, worth CHF 10,000 to produce a photobook.

The final Jury, composed of five international personalities from the institutional, artistic, curatorial media and editorial world will meet in Vevey from 27 to 30 April 2023 to examine the shortlisted projects. At the end of these discussions, nearly CHF 70,000 in creative grants and distinctions will be awarded, as well as the possibility of exhibiting at the next Images Vevey biennial in September 2024.
